

Greyhound Rescue of New York

December 2017 Newsletter

The holidays are quickly approaching, and this newsletter is a reminder for those who are hosting family, or having friends over for a get together, please keep your greyhound safe from dashing out the door when it opens, and you are greeting and inviting family and friends in.

I am grateful for all the members who invite GRoNY to be part of their extended family, there are many moments of laughter, and all of us share to divide the grief of our losses. This year has had a mixture of both, just to mention a few: there was an application transferred to GRoNY from PA, and now Reba has her forever family, there was VanGogh who, may have had some physical blemishes, but quickly won the hearts of many. Plus, GRoNY has welcomed not just fur-kids into our extended family but also new baby arrivals, always a plus to begin education of adoption to the next generation, even while in diapers. Yikes an odd mental vision of the newbies which need belly bands on, and me in adult diapers, let's hope the next generation will be able to take over before I'm in adult diapers. There has been GRoNY greyhounds who have moved to different states, and countries across the ocean, and again GRoNY and this newsletter writer has been entrusted with their new emails to still correspond with them. There has also been the invitation to stop and visit, should I ever be in that state, I would like that to happen.

There are numerous members, who GRoNY may not see all the time, but you are all in mine and GRoNY thoughts, and yes, I still do drive by to check that the greyhounds are not outside by themselves, which may be why several members have moved, only teasing, I know it was because of the Northeast winters.

As the present year ending, there are many thank you I want to extend from myself and also from the Board of Directors. May the next year be filled with much happiness, new beginnings, whether here or in other states. As you tell and read, this newsletter may sound melancholy, although I do mean each heartfelt thought and thank you to everyone, my heart is also sadden because Peanut, has crossed the Rainbow Bridge.

As I always remind you, hugs your greyhound, but also enjoy each moment of their quirks that make you laugh and may drive you crazy now, but that you will only be able to remember when it is their time to leave.
